Financial Services Guide

Issue Date: 1 July 2021
Version 2.9

The Financial Service Guide (FSG) is an important document. The purpose of the FSG is to assist you to make a decision about whether to use any of the services offered by Financial Force and our Advisers and to keep you fully informed of the financial planning process.

The information contained in this FSG covers matters such as:

- Information about Financial Force Pty Ltd as the licensee
- Who will be responsible for providing the financial services
- Details of the financial services and/or products Financial Force can provide
- Details of the financial services and/or products that Financial Force does not provide
- The Financial Force financial planning process
- Documents you may receive from us
- Remuneration received by Financial Force and your Adviser
- Relationships which might influence Financial Force or your Adviser in providing financial services to you
- Financial Force internal and external complaints procedures
- Compensation arrangements

Lack of Independence

Financial Force is privately owned and not an independent Australian Financial Services License (AFSL) and will continue to operate through these circumstances as we allow all our advisers the option to remunerate their services by accepting insurance commissions. As Financial Force allows remuneration from our clients in the form of receiving commissions on the sale of life risk insurance products (and not rebate in full back to clients), we're unable to declare Financial Force as an independent, impartial or unbiased Australian Financial Services License (AFSL) holder.

If your Adviser provides you with financial advice and/or a financial product, you will receive a Statement of Advice (SoA) and/or a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS)

A SoA will take into account your financial situation, objectives and needs. The SoA will contain the financial advice provided to you and the basis on which it is given, including advice / product recommendations, any remuneration payable, the risks and disadvantages associated with the advice and/or product recommendations and all details of any relationships which might influence your Adviser in providing the financial advice and/or product recommendation, such as any association with product issuers or other parties

If we recommend that you acquire a particular financial product (other than securities such as direct shares) or offer to issue or arrange the issue of a financial product to you, we will provide you with a PDS. The PDS will contain information about the particular product, including the features, benefits, fees and risks associated with that product to help you make an informed decision.

The document takes into account your personal needs, objectives, financial situation and goals. You must confirm that you are satisfied with the assessment your adviser has made regarding your personal circumstances and risk profile.

Product Disclosure Statement (PDS)

If your Adviser recommends a particular product, you will receive a PDS prepared by the product provider. This document will contain information about the product features, risk and costs and details other fees and charges that may apply, including management expense ratios and remuneration payments to Advisers. It usually also contains any application material that may need to be completed in relation to the relevant transaction.

A request for additional advice can be made up to 7 years after the date that the advice was initially given to you.

Ongoing Fee Arrangement

If you're under an ongoing fee arrangement with your adviser, it is their obligation to provide you with a 12-month ongoing service renewal which will require your consent to deduct fees after the initial 12 month period (the frequency and amount of each ongoing fee the account holder will pay during the upcoming year if the account holder were to renew the existing ongoing fee arrangement, where the upcoming year is a period of 12 months beginning on the next anniversary day for the ongoing fee arrangement). This may also include a Fee Disclosure Statement (FDS) which outlines how much fees you paid and what services were provided in the previous 12 months.

REMUNERATION RECEIVED BY FINANCIAL FORCE AND YOUR ADVISER

How is remuneration shared between Financial Force and your Adviser?

The remuneration between Financial Force and your Adviser is shared in accordance with the split of fees that has been negotiated in their authorisation agreements. All remuneration from the financial service provided and/or financial products is initially received by Financial Force. Our Advisers are paid between 80% and 90% of the fees and commissions received by Financial Force and Financial Force retains between 10 and 20% of these amounts.

How are Financial Force and your Adviser Remunerated?

The circumstances of each client and the nature and complexity of the advice, products and services they require will vary the costs associated with providing that advice and those products and services. Fees will be discussed with you at your first appointment. The basis and an estimate of applicable fees will be detailed in an initial Terms of Engagement letter and detailed in your SoA and explained in detail by your Adviser.

Generally though, your Adviser may be remunerated by one of the below types of fees, or a combination of them, whenever they provide a recommendation for an investment, product or service.

Fee for service

Some of our representatives may charge a fee-for-service depending on the time taken to provide the service and its complexity. A fee-for-service may be based on either one or a combination of the following:

- A fixed dollar amount; or
- A percentage of the funds invested.

Initial Commissions

Initial commissions are a one-off payment and are calculated as a percentage of funds you have invested. They are deducted from the amount invested and are calculated as a percentage of the value of the investment you make. Initial commissions are calculated in the following way:

Investment products- between 0 - 5% of the investment amount (GST inclusive)

Insurance products – between 0 – 66% of the investment amount (GST inclusive)

Ongoing Commissions

Ongoing commissions (sometimes known as trail/level commissions) are paid to Financial Force for the duration that your investment or insurance product is held with that product provider. Ongoing commissions are calculated in the following way:

Investment products- between 0 - 1.5% of the investment amount (GST inclusive)

Insurance products – between 0 – 22% of the investment amount (for trail commissions) (GST inclusive)

Insurance products – between 0 – 27.5% of the investment amount (for level commissions) (GST inclusive)

Adviser Service Fee

Most fund managers/insurance companies and lenders pass on to advisers a small proportion of the annual management fee to contribute to the cost of ongoing review of the client's circumstances. Our representatives often accept this fee to meet the costs of ongoing review unless otherwise negotiated. However, an additional service fee may also be charged to cover this service. This is a matter of discussion between you and your adviser and any applicable Adviser Service Fee will be disclosed to you in relevant SoA document.

RELATIONSHIPS WHICH MIGHT INFLUENCE FINANCIAL FORCE OR YOUR ADVISER IN PROVIDING FINANCIAL SERVICES

Financial Force and your Adviser are required to inform you of anything that might give rise to a conflict of interest (real or perceived) arising from the advice that they are giving you. They must also inform you of any other persons who may benefit from the remuneration they receive from providing the services to you. Any associations or relationships that may influence your Adviser in providing financial services will be specifically detailed in their Adviser Profile.

If I identify that you require specialise advice on a particular product or service that I cannot provide advice on, such as estate planning, I may refer you to a specialist who can help. Based on the information collected from you, my advice considers the tax consequences that relate directly to the financial advice being provided. However, I am not a Registered Tax Agent and consequently this advice does not include an assessment of your overall tax position. As such, I strongly recommend you review your advice with a Registered Tax Agent.

How do I pay for services from my adviser?

We receive initial, implementation and ongoing advice fees and commission for insurance products you purchase. Before I provide you with any financial advice, we will discuss your individual needs and agree our fees with you and help you select the best payment method to suit your circumstances.

Your Statement of Advice (SoA) will outline all fees and commission inclusive of GST. The fees charged for our advice services may be based on a combination of:

- A set dollar amount; or
- A percentage of the funds that you invest or a percentage of an insurance premium paid. The actual fees will depend on factors such as the complexity of your circumstances, your goals, and the scope of advice. Our advice fees may include charges for the following services;

Initial Advice

Initial advice fees range between $500 and $25,000. The initial advice fee covers the cost of researching your strategies and products and preparing your financial plan. Before providing you with initial advice we will prepare an Advice Agreement. The Advice Agreement sets out what our initial advice will cover and how much it will cost. If, in developing your financial plan, we identify that you have a complex situation that requires extensive planning and development, our initial advice fee will change. In this case, we will provide you with an upfront quote of the amount payable before we proceed with developing your Plan.

Advice Implementation

Implementation fees range between $500 and $25,000 per individual client. This covers the administrative time spent implementing the recommended strategies and products.

Ongoing Advice

Ongoing advice fees range between $500 and $25,000 per annum per individual client. This is a fee that you and I agree on for the ongoing advice and services that I am to provide to you. If you require ongoing advice outside of the level of ongoing services agreed upon, this fee will change. In this case, we will provide you with a quote of what you will be required to pay to receive these services. Before providing you with ongoing advice we will prepare an ongoing advice agreement. This will set out what ongoing advice & services we will offer, your payment method, and how much it will cost.

Hourly Rate Direct Charges

I may charge an hourly rate for financial services if you prefer or if you require additional advice. The current rate is $330 per hour or part thereof (including GST). Part or all of the initial commissions received from a product provider may be rebated to you if this charging option is used. Before going ahead with services, I will provide you an estimate of the time, in hours, that I may need for the service selected.

Commissions

Financial Force may receive initial or ongoing commission payments when you invest in an annuity product or commence an insurance policy through me. Under this arrangement, Financial Force may receive commission payments directly from product providers. An initial commission is a one-off payment made upon entry to a financial product and an ongoing commission is paid each year for the duration which a financial product is maintained. Any commission payments that Financial Force or I receive are not an additional cost to you. Commission payments are based on a percentage of the funds you invest or the insurance premiums you pay. They are not paid directly by you and are instead deducted from the investment, superannuation or insurance premium by the product provider and paid to Financial Force. Initial commissions are calculated for Investment products- between 0 -1.5% of the investment amount and for insurance products– between 0 – 130% of the initial premium amount (or for new policies issued on or after 1st January 2018, no more than 80% of the initial premium). Ongoing commissions are calculated for Investment products- between 0 -1.5% of the investment amount and for Insurance products – between 0 – 33% of the renewal premium.

Appointment Cancellation Fee

An appointment cancellation fee of $120 may apply if 24 hours' notice isn't provided.

Payment Method & Frequency & Changes

We offer you the following payment methods:

- Direct debit (credit card or savings), cheque, EFT (electronic funds transfer) or
- Deduction from your investment/s.

Ongoing advice fees may be deducted as a single annual instalment or in monthly or quarterly instalments. Ongoing advice fees may increase each year in line with the Consumer Price Index (CPI) or by a fixed amount or percentage each year. The specific amount will be agreed to by you and outlined in our ongoing advice agreement. Please note, fees/prices may change at any time. Payment Terms We will send you tax invoices containing details of our fees including GST. Our tax invoices are payable within 7 days after issued. You may pay by credit card, but a surcharge of up 3% applies to payments made by credit card. If you choose direct debit, we will ask you to sign a direct debit authority. We do not accept payment in cash. If our tax invoice is not paid within 7 days, we may charge you interest which will be at the Reserve Bank Cash Rate plus 3.5%, of the invoice value for each 7 days overdue, after the first 7 days. If we need to refer your account to a collection agency or solicitor, we will add all legal costs and commission to the amount owed to us.

If you do not implement our advice

You will be liable for any costs to research and/or prepare your Financial Plan as detailed in your Initial Advice Agreement or Strategy Preparation, Implementation & Service Agreement. All Advice implementation costs will be waived.

Your insurance

Where we receive initial and ongoing insurance commissions from an insurance company, the insurance company requires that the policy must be in force for a minimum of 24 months. Therefore, if you cease to pay premiums on any policies arranged by us within 25 months and as a consequence, we are required to pay all or part of the commission back to the insurance company. We reserve the right to recover:

- the amount we have to refund to the insurance company from you, or
- the total initial advice fee as documented in the Initial Advice Agreement, which may have been previously waived (or partially waived), in lieu of commission received.

In this case we will invoice you directly for the administration time spent for advice implementation (capped at 6 hours of the hourly rate direct charges).

What Financial Force pays me as your Adviser Financial Force will typically retain 10% (may be scaled down to 0%) of the gross revenue received for the recommended financial services and/or products. Financial Force Pty Ltd will pay Glenn Bosse the remaining 90% of the gross revenue received.

Other benefits we may receive

Buy out option

We are eligible to sell our client base to Financial Force or any other ASIC authorised financial planning business. The value of the sale is based on a multiple of the ongoing revenue generated from annual revenue and financial products.

What conflicts of interest might my adviser have?

Within the provision of advice to clients there may from time to time arise a conflict of interest. When conflicts do occur we are required by law to inform you of any such conflict. Glenn Bosse takes the issue of conflicts and professional conduct extremely seriously and will openly deal with any such conflict should it arise.
